

Senate Hearing Set on House Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee will hold a hearing Monday on the civil rights bill passed by the House. It will signal a drive by Southern senators to revise one section of the bill and thus delay its enactment indefinitely.

An aide to Sen. Herman Tamm (D-Ga.) said that Charles J. Bloch, Macon, Ga., attorney, will testify against the measure and that Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers will speak for it.

Bloch was deputized as a special attorney general of Georgia some weeks ago to represent Gov. S. Ernest Vandiver and the state in testifying against all civil rights proposals at House and Senate committee hearings.

The Senate Thursday sent the bill to the Judiciary Committee with instructions to report it back to the Senate by next Tuesday midnight.

The deadline bars any possibility of the bill's being locked up in the committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss).

Southern hope of revising the bill was voiced by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.). On the other hand, senators ardently urging civil rights legislation were vowing to strengthen the House bill.

Indications were, however, that leaders of both parties looked to a majority of the Senate to accept the 5-point bill passed by the House Thursday by a vote of 311-109.

A trimmed-down version of the Eisenhower administration's civil rights program, it provides in a key section for court-appointed referees to prevent discrimination against Negroes seeking to vote.

If the House bill is passed by the Senate without change, it will go directly to President Eisenhower for his approval.

Should the Senate adopt any amendments, the measure would have to go back to the House. This would give Southern opponents there, particularly on the Judiciary Committee, a chance to block any action for weeks or even months.

After receiving the House bill Thursday, the Senate voted 88-5 to refer it to its Judiciary Committee for consideration, but fixed

NAACP Calls Boycott of Pine Bluff Stores

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pine Bluff chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People wants Negroes to boycott local chain variety stores which refuse lunch counter service to members of their race.

The boycott appeal was made yesterday by Dr. David E. Parker, a Negro dentist who heads the NAACP chapter.

Only two chain variety stores in Pine Bluff have lunch counters. The proposed boycott brought no comment from the managers beyond statements that operations would continue in accordance with local practices.

Pine Bluff has a population of nearly 50,000. The Chamber of Commerce estimates about 20,000 of the city's residents are Negroes.

A slogan has been adopted by the Pine Bluff NAACP: "We No Longer Pay to be Segregated."

Parker said he thought it only fair that Negroes be seated at chain variety store lunch counters if they were admitted to all other departments on a non-segregated basis.

He said the boycott would be discussed at a mass meeting in a Pine Bluff Negro church Sunday afternoon.

Parker's announcement drew this comment from L. C. Bates of Little Rock, Arkansas field secretary of the NAACP:

"That's strictly their business." Bates said he knew nothing about any Pine Bluff boycott.

In another development, the acting president of Arkansas AM&N College, a Negro school here, urged arbitration rather than protests over segregated service at lunch counters.

E. E. Evans, acting president while Lawrence Davis is on one-year leave, told an assembly that the alternative to sitdown protests was "an approach to our problem through reason at the conference table."

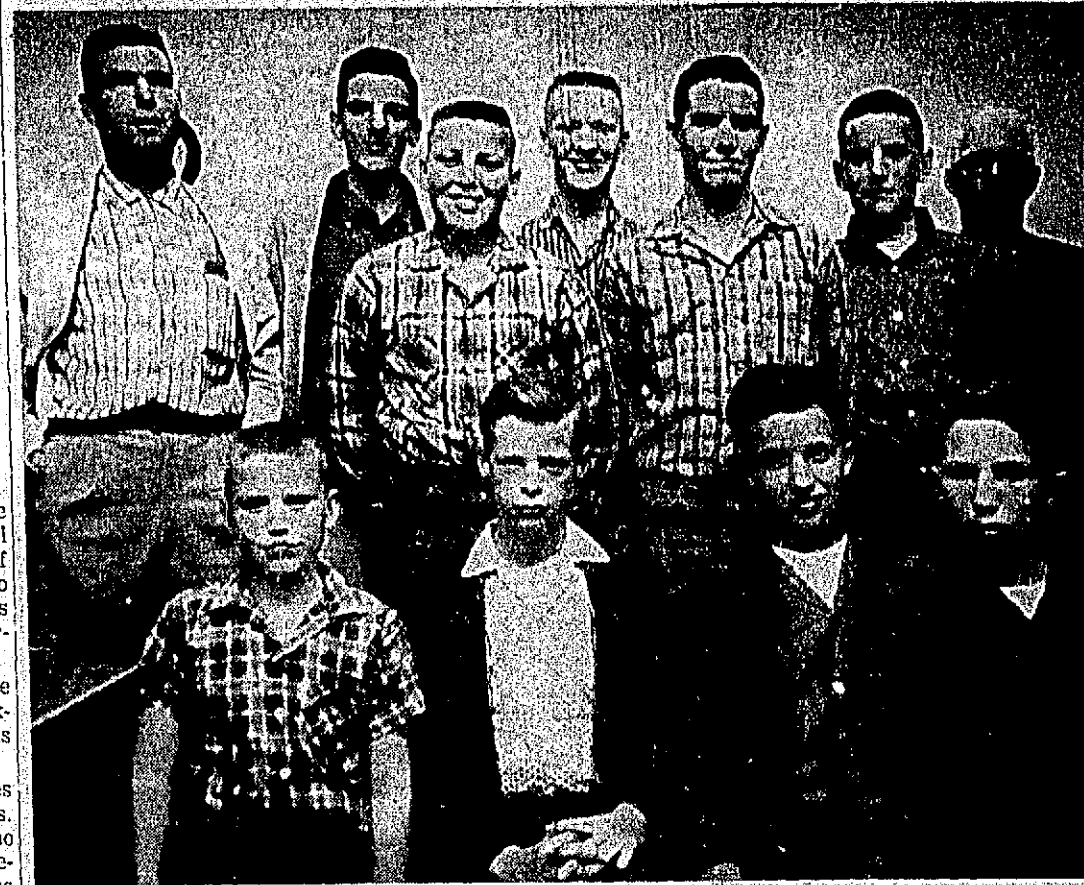

Evans has told AM&N students it would be in the interest of the college for them to refrain from any participation in sitdowns. There has never been a sitdown demonstration at Pine Bluff. The two separate occasions at Little Rock.

Predicts No Recession in U.S. Before 1961

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—"The next recession won't come before 1961 at the earliest, government economists predicted today.

Officials reported privately that national output in this quarter has reached the rate of about 500 billion dollars a year, the largest gain in any quarter since 1950.

This was an advance estimate of the actual figure, but officials said the preliminary studies indicate the final report won't be far off the half-trillion dollar mark, one way or the other.

This would represent an advance of roughly 16½ billion dollars since the last quarter of 1959, when the economy was still beset by the steel strike and its after effects. The gain, largest since the outbreak of the Korean War, was accomplished without price inflation and in the face of a February slowdown in steel and auto production.

Much of the first quarter gain was attributed to industry's race to replace inventories depleted during the 115-day steel shutdown which ended early in November. This inventory replacement took less time than was expected and a slower rate of accumulation is expected from now on.

Nevertheless, continued production gains through the year were foreseen by government experts interviewed privately. They did not share the uncertainty in financial circles which has been reflected in recent stock market slumps and a rapid easing of credit.

The government analysts are relying on a substantial rise in industry's outlays for new plants, machinery and equipment to keep the economy expanding.

Corporations have notified the Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission of plans to increase such outlays this year by 14 per cent over 1959. The rate in the second half of the year is scheduled to reach a record 38 billion dollars annually.

Some officials believe it will go higher. They think expansion and modernization outlays may rise to a rate of 39 or even 40 billion dollars annually by fall.

This buoying force may diminish in 1961, as the companies taper off their expansion outlays to let demand catch up with their new capacity.

Then would be the time to look for a recession, one highly placed official said. But as for 1960, he continued, "a recession is conceivable this year only if the automobile industry goes sour."

Some Dams Will Not Be Necessary

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Army Engineers have found it will be possible to eliminate some of the locks and dams previously planned on the Arkansas River without reducing efficiency of the overall program for navigation and flood control.

This was the word yesterday afternoon from Brig. Gen. William Whipple of Dallas, Southwest Division engineer, at a meeting of the Arkansas-White-Red Basins Interagency Committee here.

Present plans, subject to possible further modification, are for 20 major structures on the river instead of 24, Whipple said.

Five of these structures will be between Pine Bluff and Dardanelle: two near Little Rock, one near Morrilton, another near Toad Suck and the fifth about 12 miles upstream from Pine Bluff.

Meant Every Word, Truman Tells NAACP

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says he meant every word of his recent statement criticizing Negro sit-downs in southern lunch counters.

At Louisville, Ky., last week Truman said: "If anyone came in to my store and tried to stop business, I'd throw him out. The Negro should behave himself and show he's a good citizen. Common sense and good will can solve this thing."

Two officials of the Detroit branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People sent Truman a wire saying "these statements are shocking and deeply disappointing."

Truman said Thursday he sent this reply to Detroit: "I would do just what I said I would. NAACP is an organization which has been working for good will and common sense in this situation with which we are faced. When they do things that cause people who have been friendly to them as I have been to feel that they are doing the wrong thing, they are losing friends instead of making them."

"If I were in Detroit I would say the same thing to you personally for all the newspapers and television in the country. I can't come to Detroit because of illness in the family, but if I were there I would tell you exactly what I am saying now. This is not personal nor confidential."

Truman was scheduled to attend the Midwest Democratic Conference in Detroit. His brother-in-law, George Wallace, underwent surgery Tuesday.

The telegram went to Ed and L. M. Turner, president of the D.C. and Doyle Best of Dallas, Tex., regional representative of the NAACP branch, and Arthur L. Johnson, executive secretary.

Faubus Not to Speak in California

Los Angeles, (AP)—Col. William P. Gale, leader of a "Faubus for President" movement in Los Angeles, said yesterday a scheduled rally April 1 has been postponed because Faubus wrote him saying he could not attend.

At Little Rock, Faubus insisted that he still is undecided about the appearance.

Gale said Faubus informed him he could not be present.

Faubus once had agreed to speak to the rally in a large Los Angeles auditorium. Later, after Faubus announced his intentions of running for a fourth term as governor, he said he did not know if he would keep the appointment.

The Los Angeles Examiner quoted Gale as saying Faubus backed out of the rally via letter.

The Examiner reported some time ago that some Faubus for President Committee members were connected with political extremist groups.

The national States Rights Party nominated Faubus as its presidential candidate at an Ohio convention last weekend, but the governor said he did not seek the nomination.

Mr. K Holds Out Olive Branch to the French

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

PARIS (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, campaigning for close French ties with the Soviet Union, said today, "We have a proverb that it is better to have 100 friends than 100 rubles."

He held out the olive branch at a diplomatic press corps luncheon in this third day of his presumptive visit to France.

Khrushchev said the May summit meeting should seek an end to the cold war. He declared disarmament is necessary to peaceful coexistence. He warned again that the Soviet Union may sign its own peace treaty with Communist East Germany if an all-German treaty fails to materialize.

He touched with light scorn the Berlin problem. He told his listeners the Soviet Union is not alarmed at the 11,000-odd Western troops garrisoned there, adding that perhaps half a million would be easier to wipe out.

He implied the real concern was that the Soviet Union considered the situation in the divided city a dangerous vestige of World War II, which should be removed.

Khrushchev paid brief homage to Nikolai Lenin this morning in a workers' section of Paris, drawing enthusiastic cheers from thousands jamming nearby streets. Then he had another long conference with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Khrushchev visited an art museum in which the Soviet Union's founder plotted revolution while an exile in Paris. Then the Soviet Union's present leader was whisked off to the Elysee Palace for another two-hour session with De Gaulle.

Khrushchev's visit to the modest, third-floor apartment in a workers' section produced an almost hysterical welcome, perhaps the most enthusiastic public demonstration since he arrived Wednesday.

at the Elysee Palace. The conference with the tiny Rue Marie Rose, chanting, shouting, singing and waving Soviet and French flags. Every square foot of space was filled with nearly 500 policemen and detectives cleared a way for the Premier's party.

Another 25,000 people filled adjoining streets, shouting and singing.

Khrushchev, picking up steam since his arrival Wednesday, bustled with energy as he arrived at the Elysee Palace. The conference was the last for the two leaders until Khrushchev returns next Thursday from a fast tour of the provinces.

Today's talk amounted to a full-fledged diplomatic conference, with Premier Michel Debre and Foreign Ministers Maurice Couve de Murville and Andrei Gromyko attending. At their first session Thursday, Khrushchev and De Gaulle had only their two interpreters with them.

De Gaulle and Khrushchev met first alone, then called in their aides. One source said the concerns in the labor-management field, expires next Thursday, cultural and economic relations, comparatively noncontroversial items.

The Soviet Premier continued to drum out insistently the major powers and documents available to France's strengthening of theme of his visit — his desires.

Cost of Living Bounces Back to Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs bounced back to a record level in February after declining for two straight months.

Reporting this today, government agencies said rising interest rates on home mortgages and increases in costs of health insurance contributed to the February rise.

The Labor Department's consumer price index rose two-tenths of one per cent from January to February to reach 125.6 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

This took the price level to the record reached in November.

There was every indication, too, that living costs have started another upward trend.

"Things are likely to get a little worse before they get better, I'm afraid," said Deputy Commissioner Robert J. Myers of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Myers said he thought it would be two or three months before prices may stop going up.

McClellan Loses Fight for Probe

Sharp Jumps in Education and Health Budget

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today voted sharp increases in President Eisenhower's education and health budgets and called for an all-out war against juvenile delinquency.

In a $4,104,022,731 bill financing the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the committee said the administration's health proposals "represented a retrenchment, a step backward," and its education budget called for "an arbitrary cut."

It recommended $107,400,500 more than the President requested for the Welfare Department, earmarking most of the increase for sewage treatment programs, aid to schools, and health projects.

The action, if sustained by Congress, would give the department $3,619,044,531 for the fiscal year starting July 1.

It would give the Labor Department $542,245,300, a cut of $15,241,700.

A group of smaller agencies which would share $22,732,900, and absorb a cut of $220,100.

To speed the fight against juvenile delinquency, the committee approved an extra million dollars for the National Institute of Mental Health and an extra $60,000 for the Children's Bureau. These two agencies recently made a comprehensive study of delinquency at the committee's request.

The committee cited a need for additional research, more field studies, more and better trained personnel and improved coordination of activities to combat juvenile delinquency at state and local levels.

For federal payments to areas where pupil population has been swollen by federal activities, the committee recommended $187,310,000 for operation of schools, an increase of $60,015,000 over the President's request. For construction grants the same district allocated $63,392,000 an increase of 19,002,000.

For the National Institutes of Health, the committee recommended 455 million dollars, an increase of 55 million to speed research in cancer, heart ailments and other diseases.

Memphis Gets Regional Labor Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has announced that its subregional office at Memphis, Tenn., is being raised to the status of a regional office.

As a result, the Memphis office will handle cases in an area including Arkansas, all of Mississippi north of and including Washington, Humphreys, Holmes, Atala, Winston and Noddy counties, and all of Tennessee west of and including Macon, Smith, DeKalb, Cannon, Coffee and Franklin counties.

As a subregional office in the New Orleans region, the Memphis office formerly served a territory that included only the northern section of Arkansas and a narrow area of western Tennessee.

"This enlarged jurisdiction and elevation of status will assist the agency to serve the public better at less cost to the government," said Stuart Hollman, NLRB general counsel.

Hollman announced the appointment of John J. A. Reynolds Jr., regional attorney in the board's Newark, N. J., office, as regional director of the Memphis office.

Reynolds, 50, is a native of Providence, R. I. He was graduated from Providence College and received his law degree from Georgetown University.

Roy Kimes Is Jailed at Eureka Spgs.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Roy Kimes, who was arrested near here yesterday by an alert sheriff, is wanted in three states for robbery and burglary.

Kimes had been sought in this area for questioning after post office burglaries at Monroe and Cameron, Okla., last Sunday and an attempted robbery at a Midland, Ark., service station Monday.

He also was wanted for post office theft in McDonald County, Mo., for auto theft in Washington County, Ark., and for burglary and grand larceny in Crawford County, Ark.

Post Office authorities said they planned to press federal charges. Sheriff Dwan W. Treat, driving along a highway near here yesterday, recognized Kimes as he passed in a stolen pickup truck. He said Kimes turned off State Highway 23 onto a rural road just after the sheriff's car passed.

Kimes was arrested without a fight when he got out of the truck. Kimes is the cousin of two Southwest badmen of the 1920s. Matt Kimes was killed in 1945 in a traffic accident in North Little Rock. George Kimes is in jail at Lewiston, Idaho, in connection with a tavern stabbing. He was on parole at the time from Oklahoma after serving part of a murder and bank robbery charge.

Officers in Arkansas, Missouri and Oklahoma had sought Roy Kimes since getting a tip that he was in the area Tuesday. Kimes' home is at Chester. The FBI said he was wanted in connection with a Jan. 17 post office burglary at Chester.

Kimes' police record goes back to 1932. He has been convicted four times and has served time in Leavenworth, Alcatraz, and the Federal Correctional Institution ties with West Germany by a French-Soviet alliance.

Both in a public speech at the Paris Town Hall Thursday afternoon and a banquet toast to De Gaulle Thursday night, Khrushchev again warned against resurgent Germany and called for close ties between his government and De Gaulle's.

To Khrushchev's blandishments and his bristling attack on friendly West Germany, De Gaulle has maintained a courteous reserve. A high French source indicated De Gaulle would avoid getting into a public argument over Germany to avoid turning the Soviet leader's visit into a propaganda battle.

Contracts for State Printing Are Held Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Auditor Jimmie Jones has ordered requisition on five state printing contracts of State Sen. Tom Allen of Brinkley held up indefinitely.

Jones said he acted after being advised of an attorney general's opinion yesterday that a legislator can not legally hold a state printing contract.

The auditor said he would study the opinion. Assistant Atty. Gen. Anell M. Reed said, in reply to a query from Rep. Grover C. Carnes of Arkansas County, that under the constitution a legislator was forbidden to receive a contract for state printing or stationery.

The contracts to Allen, publisher of weekly newspapers and operator of a job shop, were awarded on the basis of low bids to the State Printing Board last year.

Apparently the question of whether a legislator could receive a contract had not been raised officially before.

Jones said that to his knowledge Allen is the only legislator with a printing contract.

Reed's opinion led to speculation about other contracts.

The printing company of Harry Parkin of Little Rock, member of the Arkansas Highway Commission, has contracts for considerable state printing, including special research reports for the Highway Department.

The opinion cited a constitutional section which says that "no member or officer of any department of the government shall in any way be interested in such contracts."

Pair Gives in and Prison Siege Ends

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—State Penitentiary officials sought to learn how a pair of dangerous convicts got the two pistols they used to hold 19 persons hostage for 25 tense hours.

Warden Lynn Bomar began the investigation late Thursday after Robert Rivera and Raymond Farra surrendered meekly when their scaled-down demands were met. The hostages, three women and 16 men, were released unharmed.

The warden told newsmen the pistols might have come from a guard, not identified, who was fired last month for smuggling guns into the prison. He said the former guard was not prosecuted, but charges may be placed against him "in the light of what has happened."

Farra, 25, a native of Borderland, W. Va., is listed on prison records as insane and capable of murder. He is serving a life sentence for kidnaping. He was committed to the prison after escaping from a mental institution.

Rivera, 24, from Temple, Tex., was called by officials "one of the most dangerous prisoners ever to enter this penitentiary." He is serving 40 years for armed robbery.

The pair grabbed 21 hostages at the deputy warden's office shortly after 3 p.m. Wednesday as prisoners were being paid scrip for work done.

One hostage, inmate Sam Broyles, was released during the night because he was ill. Another, Jack Warrick, a telephone operator-guard, was turned loose several hours later for the same reason.

Rivera and Farra first demanded a car and three state employees as shields to accompany them on a run for freedom. This was flatly refused.

After a tense night and day of negotiating with state and prison officials, they finally came out under this signed and notarized agreement:

They would be taken to the Davidson County Jail here "unharmed, unmolested and unharassed" to stay until the courts act on their petitions for writs didn't sleep.

Guard Association Meets at L. R.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The National Guard Assn. of Arkansas will meet here tomorrow and Sunday with some 300 officers of the ground and air branches expected to attend.

Speakers will include Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson, a native Arkansan who is assistant chief of the National Guard Bureau and head of its Air Division; Maj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger, the Arkansas adjutant general, and Lt. Col. Charles C. Boatright of the Guard Bureau.

The convention will end at noon Sunday after election of officers.

Lt. Col. John W. Sampier of Rogers and Maj. Douglas C. Shelton of Little Rock, now the vice president, have been nominated for president to succeed Lt. Col. Sam D. Crawford of Jacksonville.

Local presidential nominees are Lt. Col. Frank Angelo of Jonesboro and Lt. Col. Fred C. Storm of North Little Rock.

Adenauer in Japan for a Conference

TOKYO (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived today for a seven-day state visit to Nazi Germany's wartime ally.

A small group of Japanese extreme rightists welcomed him with swastika banners and rising sun emblems.

Before Adenauer's chartered plane touched down, the rightists also circulated pro-Hitler leaflets of habeas corpus. They would not lose their good behavior time as a result of the rebellion.

The agreement, signed by Corrections Commission Keith Hampton, three lawyers and the convicts, was contingent upon it being published in Thursday's afternoon's Nashville Banner. It also stipulated Farra and Rivera would not be placed in solitary confinement or in the prison's maximum security unit.

The Banner published an extra edition to carry the agreement.

Mrs. Jerry Tarry, an accounting clerk at the prison and one of the women hostages, said on her release, "We never were really terrified. They didn't threaten us. But they had those guns. We act on their petitions for writs didn't sleep."

among the crowd at Tokyo's international airport.

A West German official, arguing with the crowd in Japanese, insisted that the banners be taken down at once.

After a brief scuffle, police dragged away the demonstrators and hauled down the banner.

Youths in tattered, off-khaki uniforms of the former Japanese imperial army with rising sun emblems, were among the airport crowd of about 1,000.

Senate Hearing

a Tuesday midnight deadline for its return to the Senate.

The action was taken on motion of Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) after the Senate rejected, 72-19, a move by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) to send the bill to the committee without any deadline.

The committee will meet Monday, but there was no indication what action, if any, it will take on the bill at that time.

Meanwhile the Senate put aside the broader civil rights legislation it had been working on since Feb. 15 and started clearing out a logjam of appropriation bills and other measures before returning to civil rights on Wednesday.

Russell, leader of the Southern senators fighting the legislation, said they will attempt to modify the House bill and expressed doubt it would be accepted by the Senate without change.

He referred particularly to a section which would make it a federal crime to interfere by force or threats with court orders against school segregation.

Ben Craven, who is their guest.

Guests during the week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Floyd were Mr. and Mrs. Willis Floyd of Ft. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kriksey of Amity.

Friends of Mrs. Floyd will be glad to know she has returned home after being a patient in the Cara Donnell Hospital.

SIX-PASSENGER CAR OR STATION SEDAN ...CORVAIR IS BOTH!

A wonderfully useful folding seat makes every Corvair two cars in one. Just one quick flip and you increase the luggage and parcel space to 28.9 cubic feet. And just as simply, you're back to comfortable six-passenger capacity. It's standard equipment ... and extraordinarily practical.

Corvair does car-pool duty with the biggest and best of them. Going to work or school or out for the evening, you've got a genuine six-seater. As for carting around piles of stuff instead of people, just look at Corvair's station-sedan load space with the rear seat folded. And when that's full you can start on the trunk. Corvair, you see, is no ordinary compact car. No others are so versatile, so ingeniously engineered—with independent suspension on all four wheels, an air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze. You just can't compare anything else coming out these days with a Corvair. Drive one ... soon.

Junior Climbers Club Meets
The March meeting of the Junior Climbers Garden Club met with the president, Margaret Elter, presiding at the school gym for its regular meeting.

The Lord's Prayer and the Junior Gardener pledge were repeated in unison. Roll call was answered with "What I grow in the garden." The members discussed the flower arrangements they had brought to the meeting. Refreshments carrying out the St. Patrick motif were served by Mrs. J. O. Luck and the meeting was closed with prayer led by Bonnie Watson.

Mrs. Billy G. Smith

Christian, not noted for his physical presence (II Cor. 10:10) or even his eloquence, in time of crisis dominated the situation. The Roman commander in charge of prisoners, and the captain of the ship, both had to bow to Paul's will as Paul himself bowed only to what he believed to be the will of God.

The story of the shipwreck is outstanding as a vivid narrative, and I believe that navigators regard it as one of the most valuable sources of knowledge of ancient navigation. It is a supreme example, too, of the power of moral and spiritual authority.

I wish that Protestants also would be represented in the Malta celebrations but, failing that, it is pleasant to note that Cardinal Spellman plans to be there and that Bishop Fulton J. Sheen has been invited to preach on St. Paul. There could be no better choice.

There is a great deal more that is worthy of celebration in the Bible lands. It would be a great triumph if the spirit, events, experiences and teachings of the Bible could be brought to bear on events and experiences in Bible lands today.

It is sad to note how much interreligious, interracial, and sectional prejudice, and persecution continue today, even after 19 centuries of the Gospel and the work of St. Paul.

Equally vivid, is the story in Acts 28 that follows the story of the shipwreck. Through a series of experiences Paul eventually reached Rome. Though it was to comparative safety, in contrast to the dangers that beset him, it was not to freedom.

Roman "justice" seems to have been a strange mixture of brutality and humaneness. Paul had to protest against a Roman officer who would have had him beaten from that brutality by pointing out that he was a free-born Roman citizen—a status that the Roman officer had acquired by paying a great sum (Acts 22:28-29). Now, in contrast, Paul was permitted to live in his own house but in chains.

Roman justice wasn't human or just enough to give Paul a speedy trial and acquittal, but the two years of comparative freedom in his own house gave Paul great opportunity to "preach the Kingdom of God" and "teach the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ, with all boldness, none forbidding him."

The spiritual quality and heroism that dominated a captain and a Roman centurion at sea evidently so impressed authorities at Rome that, though they could not set him at liberty, they left him alone. It was the triumph of a great free spirit.

And Paul, the Jew and the Christian, was the master of his fate. He had linked his fate with the determination above all else to do the will of God.

DOROTHY DIX

Daughter Defies Parent, May Lose Divorce

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: When youngsters marry, what they do is their own affair. But something has come up between my daughter and myself which requires an answer. Please print it in your column because she reads it daily.

She has started divorce proceedings on charges of cruelty. Her husband has been abusive to their 18-month-old baby, striking her at different times. He also struck my daughter. Their divorce is at a standstill.

My daughter thinks there is nothing wrong in having a fellow come to her house as long as she keeps her place. I might be old-fashioned but I feel she's not doing right. Her husband is still in the house for technical reasons. (The fellow comes during the day.) My daughter says she has no love for her husband. Each does as each wishes. She comes forth with all this information on the phone. I said she was asking for trouble and will lose her children if her husband finds out.

Worried

Dear Worried: You are right. Propriety aside, your daughter is endangering her position in court. She might very well lose custody of the children if the judge should hear that she has been entertaining another man, however innocently, in her home. Now, if ever, it behooves her to live circumspectly.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: When I first came here I didn't go out much till I joined the C.Y.O. There I met a girl and asked her to a party. She said yes and gave me her phone number. I asked her to go steady. She said, "Let me think it over." Tonight she said she didn't believe in it. But she will come out with me when I call her and also wants me to teach her to drive my car. Should I keep on trying or forget? Maybe if I ask other girls, she might change her mind. Please tell me what I should do.

A.C.D.

Dear A.C.D.: If your girl says yes every time you ask for a date, why insist on going steady? That's practically what it amounts to now. I'm opposed to going steady anyway.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My home life is unbearable. My parents are always in a bad mood. I can't turn on a light, wear socks and no shoes around the house. He had linked his fate with the determination above all else to do the will of God.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

BIBLE LANDS TODAY

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The announcement that a group of Roman Catholic clergymen including three cardinals, will celebrate the 19th centenary of the shipwreck of the Apostle Paul in the year 60 A.D. by a service at the Isle of Malta, emphasizes what I have often noted in this column linking regions and events of today with their counterparts in Biblical records.

The famous shipwreck, of which the story is so vividly told in Acts 27, has moral and spiritual aspects beyond the thrilling incidents of the disaster. It stands as the record of how a Jew, a

Bosox Still a Question Mark in American

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Bill Jurgens starts his first full season managing a Boston Red Sox club on which very little is set.

"We won't know until the week before the season begins what kind of a club we'll have," declares the former Chicago Cub and New York Giants' infielder.

In the catching department, troubles loom if the Red Sox have to return Russ Nixon to Cleveland and Sammy White remains retired. When Boston traded White to the Tribe for Nixon, Sammy said he was quitting. So Cleveland has asked Nixon back.

How much will Ted Williams be able to play?

He's appeared in more spring games than in recent years and says he feels "pretty good." He hit only .254 last year as a back ailment plagued him.

There's no doubt about Boston's third base job. Frank Malzone, second only to Jackie Jensen in runs-batted-in for the club with 92 last season, anchors the infield there.

Jensen, although a recent visitor at the Red Sox camp, hasn't changed his decision of the past winter to retire.

With him gone, right-handed hitting power looms as a major need. First baseman Ron Jackson, who had several trials with the Chicago White Sox and hit .286 with 30 homers at Indianapolis last year, could supply power. But his spring performance hasn't been impressive.

If Jackson doesn't make the varsity, Pete Runnels and Vic Wertz shared the first base job. But Jurgens would prefer to use Pete at second.

Don Buddin again will be at shortstop.

Outfielders include Williams, veteran Bobby Thomson who was acquired by trade from the Cubs, Gene Stephens, Marly Keough, Jim Busby and rookies Lou Clinton and Jerry Mallett.

Tom Brewer, Jerry Casale, Ike Delock and Frank Sullivan head the returning delegation in the pitching department. All are right-handers. Casale posted a 13-6 record last year. Brewer 10-12, Delock 11-6 and Sullivan 9-11.

Bill Monbouquette posted a 7-7 record in his first full season of major league ball.

Ex-Yankee Tom Sturdivant, obtained in a trade with Kansas City, also will start a starting assignment.

Only left-handers on the roster are Tom Borland, who had a 14-0 mark with Minneapolis last season, Ted Bowsfield and Ted Wills who also did most of their 1959 work in the Minnesota club.

Ex-Cub Dave Hillman, counted on for extended relief service, hasn't yet recovered from a shoulder injury suffered in an automobile accident here.

Jurgens observed, "There is quite a bit of building to be done."

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Henderson and Austin College of Sherman, Tex., divided a baseball and basketball doubleheader yesterday. Henderson won the opener 7-3 and Austin taking the second game, 10-2.

White Still Determined to Bow Out

BOSTON (AP)—Sammy White today remained determined to quit baseball but admitted uncertainty about how to file the papers which would close the book on a nine-year major league career.

On this bit of paperwork hinges the final verdict on the baseball trade in which White is the key figure.

Only when Commissioner Ford Frick receives the veteran catcher's retirement papers can he void the deal which sent White to Cleveland along with utility man Jim Marshall for catcher Russ Nixon.

"I'm getting the papers ready, but I don't know where to send them," White said Thursday. "I've heard three or four different versions of what the proper procedure should be."

Meanwhile White had his fourth telephone conversation with Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane since arriving in Boston Wednesday. He also talked to American League President Joe Cronin who phoned from Scottsdale, Ariz.

"Lane is a very understanding man," White said. "We had a long talk and at the end of it we both decided that I still was retired."

In Scottsdale Cronin said: "I told him I thought that at 31 he is too young to retire. I told him he had many years of good baseball ahead of him. Sammy explained that he had his plans set. But he promised he would talk to Lane again, let Lane know if there is any change in his plans. We left it at that."

Does It Pay to Hold Out in Baseball?

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Does it really pay to hold out? Financially, sometimes. Physically, seldom.

Mickey Mantle and Lew Burdette, most persistent of the big name 1960 holdouts, played regulation baseball for the first time this spring in Florida Thursday.

Neither really was ready. Mantle, with an old knee injury aggravated by a training speed-up, went 0-for-4 as his New York teammates were slaughtered 10-3 by the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg.

Burdette, again counted as Milwaukee's No. 1 right-hander, took the mound only five days after signing. The light-hitting Chicago White Sox nailed him for three runs in a ninth-inning rally, but the Braves won 9-7 at Sarasota.

The Braves, however, were cheered by Red Schoendienst's best day of the spring. Red, hustling for his old second base job after being sidelined by tuberculosis last year, had a double and two singles in the five innings he played.

In other Florida games, Washington defeated Los Angeles 9-7 at Orlando, Pittsburgh beat Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings at Fort Myers, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 9-4 at Clearwater and in a night game at Tampa, Kansas City edged Cincinnati 4-3 in 10 innings.

In Arizona, the Boston Red Sox blanked the San Francisco Giants 3-0 at Scottsdale, and the Chicago Cubs outscored the Cleveland Indians 8-6 at Mesa.

$100 Donated to Get Travelers

Celtics Take Title; Hawks Even Up Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

History didn't repeat itself. The Boston Celtics won the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division playoffs in six games instead of the seven it took them last year, and the Minneapolis Lakers failed to eliminate St. Louis in the Western playoffs in six games as they did a year ago.

The Celtics nipped Philadelphia 119-117 Thursday night and won the best-of-seven finals in six games. St. Louis forced the Lakers to a seventh game with a 117-96 victory.

Tom Heinsohn's tip-in shot in the final nine seconds broke a 117-all tie for Boston's victory Thursday night. Bill Sharman, held to only 10 points, got his last two just prior to Heinsohn's winner to tie the score after fouls by Wilt Chamberlain and Paul Arizin had sent the Warriors ahead. Two missed fouls by Guy Rodgers helped Boston gain possession of the ball and go for the winning basket.

St. Louis never was threatened as it forced the Lakers to play the deciding game on the Hawks' court Saturday.

The Celtics will meet the winner in a best-of-seven series for the title starting with a nationally televised (NBC) game in Boston Sunday.

Seeking to Sell Travelers' Stock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A committee working to raise enough money to operate the Little Rock Travelers through the 1960 Southern Assn. baseball season will visit merchants today seeking $1,000 stock sales.

Over $20,000 has been raised and the group has been assured it can get a Southern Assn. franchise given up by New Orleans. However, $75,000 is needed to operate through the season.

"We're determined to show that Little Rock can come through for the rest of Arkansas," said Harold May, a member of the temporary Travelers board of directors. "I'd say there was considerable urgency to the situation."

Wants More Money to Rehabilitate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don W. Russell, director of Arkansas Rehabilitation Service, wants Congress to vote $54,700,000 this year for nationwide vocational rehabilitation work.

The amount would be $1,700,000 above President Eisenhower's budget recommendations.

The increase, Russell told a House Appropriations Subcommittee in a letter, would mean that Arkansas would receive an allocation of $1,493,700 as compared with $1,348,100 under the budget recommendation.

Vocational rehabilitation funds are allocated to states on a matching basis and Arkansas is one of the few states with an excess of funds available for matching federal funds.

If the increased amount is voted, Russell said, "It will eventually mean that Arkansas can secure sufficient federal funds through the regular Office of Vocational Rehabilitation budget to operate its present program and the Hot Springs Rehabilitation Center."

"This will mean that we will not have to request special funds from Congress or the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation in the operation of the center. It seems to me that this is the most logical approach we can take."

Arkansas is taking over the old Army - Navy Hospital at Hot Springs for use as a regional vocational rehabilitation center.

Russell's letter, originally sent to Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) and forwarded by Fulbright to the subcommittee, appeared in a printed record of the subcommittee's hearings which was made public today.

Rep. J. W. Trimble (D-Ark) also appeared before the subcommittee to urge approval of the larger amount.

Faibus Plan to Challenge Sen. Fulbright
By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faibus' announcement that he will seek a fourth term is another step along a path which many Washington observers believe will lead him to challenge Sen. J. W. Fulbright two years hence.

Friends and advisers of Fulbright long have held the view that if Faibus remained in the political spotlight in Arkansas he would be a likely threat to the junior Senator.

This view was not changed any by Faibus' announcement for re-election.

Should Faibus gain a fourth term he would have a ready-made state organization to aid him in a senatorial bid in 1962.

Thus he would be in a much stronger position to challenge Fulbright than as a former governor with only the remnants of an organization.

In the view of his associates, Fulbright must regard Faibus' fourth term announcement as a virtual declaration of intention for 1962.

There have been few, if any, of official announcements yet for a check shows that all six Arkansas representatives and Sen. John W. Fulbright are making re-election races this year.

Representatives involved are E. C. Gathings, Wilbur D. Mills, James W. Trimble, Oren Harris, Dale Alford and W. F. Norrell all Democrats.

None has made any secret of his intention to seek reelection—

THE BUSHWHACKERS by FRANK GRUBER

CHAPTER XXIX

Angry he looked after Ruth, who was walking back toward the store, where her horse was tied to the rail.

Bokker strode after Ruth, catching up to her out of earshot of Chaffee and Pierson.

"Help me out," he said lamely. "That young ruffian's MacDonald Pierson, one of the men I've been looking for. I don't trust Chaffee. He may be in with Fletcher Trow and if he is, Pierson will never get back to Pawnee City."

"I'll ride with the marshal," Huh said coldly, "but that's all."

"I won't ask a favor again," Bokker retorted.

He stood by while she climbed into the buckboard. Bokker had an idea she would have struck his arm aside had he tried to help her.

Chaffee came over, walking behind Pierson. There're the horses, Bokker. He chuckled again. Nice night for a buggy ride—with a pretty girl. See you in Pawnee City."

He climbed into the buckboard beside Ruth, picked up the lines and clicked in the team of horses.

"All right," Bokker snapped at Pierson. "Climb aboard."

"You're not puttin' me back in jail."

"After what you've done—"

"No," cried Pierson. "I won't go."

"Get on that horse," Bokker said grimly, "or I'll put you on face down."

The buckboard was turning beyond the store, where a trail of sorts meandered along toward Pawnee City, ten miles away. Bokker mounted one of the horses and waited for Pierson to clamber aboard the other horse.

"When you went after her, He thought it was funny— you bein' sweet on her and wantin' her to ride with him in the buckboard."

"He'd have preferred ridin' with you," retorted Bokker. "Especially since I've got your gun. Let's get going."

He signaled ahead and Pierson moved off past the saloon and across the tracks by the depot. On the far side of the tracks Pierson, with Bokker at his side, turned west.

"That gun," Bokker said, then, "where'd you get it?"

"I told you—it was on the horse."

"It wasn't."

"All right, I found it," snarled Pierson.

"On a dead man?"

"I can't make you out, Bokker," said Pierson. "Whose side are you on—Trow's? You made out like you was his enemy and then—"

"And then you chickened out on me. You were going to talk if you got out of jail, but the moment you were out, you became chicken. Maybe you'd be more willing to talk if I took you back to Trow."

"I told you all I know."

"Pierson," said Bokker, "you're on a horse. I'll give you this gun and you can ride that horse right now, anywhere you please—if you'll tell me just one thing. One word. The name of the man who was beside you in that picture in Cowan's Illustrated Weekly."

"Waite're you a relative," cried Pierson.

"No," said Bokker. "I have no relative in Lawrence. Never had points to win a triangular track any. And I've never been in Lawrence in my life."

"Then what's your interest in Harding College, 20. Tech Capit let it go—it's past and done with."

"Fletcher Trow doesn't think so. You said so yourself. You were afraid he'd kill you."

"Trow was one of Quantrell's captains. I told you that. He gave the orders for us—me, I mean."

"Bill Grayson was a captain under Quantrell."

"Yes, but he's—" Pierson stopped.

"Dead?"

Pierson did not reply.

"It was you in Raytown, Pierson, wasn't it? You were there ten days ago. When Bill Grayson was killed."

"That's a lie!"

"Then how'd you know he was dead?"

"I heard—I saw it in the paper."

"You're lying again. I'm going to ask you that question once more, Pierson, and I want an answer. Who was—"

"Hawkins!" exclaimed Pierson. "Harry Hawkins, that's who it was."

Bokker kneeled his horse so it moved close beside Pierson's. He smashed out with his left hand and struck Pierson a savage blow in the face.

"I've had enough of your lies. Hawkins—that's the first name that came to your mind."

Grayson had not talked. Fletcher Trow would not talk. And now, Pierson, Bokker was so near to the end of the trail and the last, thin curtain between him and the end stood before him like a sheet of steel. . . . because a man would not speak.

A streak of flame lanced the darkness ahead of him. The sharp, familiar crack of a revolver broke the stillness.

"They're going to kill me!" screamed Pierson.

"Quiet!" snarled Bokker, whipping out his own gun.

A gun thundered again. A bullet whined within inches of Bokker.

A voice called out, "Bokker!"

Bokker fired at the sound of the voice—and gave away his position. In the almost total darkness the ambushers could not distinguish between Bokker and Pierson. It was Bokker they wanted, not Pierson. A crash of gunfire followed. More than one gun, more than two.

Lightning seemed to strike Bokker. There was a sudden blaze of varicolored lights in his brain, a crashing like thunder and then—total darkness!

Symington Offers a Four Point Plan

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) laid down a four-point peace-and-progress program in a formal announcement today he is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

His statement avoided direct mention of the primary theme he has pursued in months of campaigning—that the United States is falling dangerously behind the Soviet Union in the development of intercontinental missiles.

Instead, Symington confined himself to the statement that "only a first-rate, first class, first place America can reinforce the world's faith in freedom and secure a just and lasting peace."

He said the next president of the United States—which he wants to be—"must provide the free world with resourceful and decisive leadership." In the past, Symington has accused President Eisenhower of failing to supply the country with leadership.

Symington arranged an afternoon news conference at which he appeared likely to rule out any primary race except that in Oregon May 20.

His action left only Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) unannounced among the major Senate aspirants for the nomination. Johnson gave no indication he plans to change his course.

Symington said he would emphasize four major policies in campaigning for the nomination. He listed these as:

1. Negotiation with the Soviet Union from a position of strength, including a worldwide "good neighbor—good neighbor" policy. He called for "a better foreign service, a more realistic economic development both at home and abroad and an effective campaign to tell the truth about America."
2. A public investment program in education, health, slum clearance, highways, water control and benefits for the elderly and disabled.
3. A program to "reverse the present trend toward the elimination of the family-size farmer, and help him attain a standard of living comparable with other Americans."
4. Programs "which would guarantee to every citizen equal rights and equal opportunity."

Symington said the cost of such programs could be met by eliminating waste in the management of government agencies.
